NexGen Team,

I just wanted to write a quick note thanking NexGen for another successful project. I have worked with a number of IT consultants over the years, and NexGen continues to be one of the best. This is especially true of your consultant, Greg Hart. The extra efforts, intelligence, and availability he has shown throughout our migration to a new Salesforce instance has been incredible. While I know there was much work involved, Greg has made the entire process seem effortless from a customer perspective. I will continue to highly recommend NexGen when I see such opportunity and look forward to working together again.

Best,
